DISEASE, DEATH, DECAY

in Literatures, Cultures, and Languages

• International Cultural Studies Conference •

University of Opole, 26–28 September 2016

The topics of Decay, Disease, and Death are often avoided, dreaded or repressed. Nevertheless, they remain at the very heart of human experience and undoubtedly merit serious consideration. During our multidisciplinary conference we want to examine various aspects of decay, disease and death and how they operate within cultures and languages. Parallel conference sessions will include a wide variety of speakers from various disciplines including English, History, Cultural Studies, Linguistics, Philosophy, Discourse Analysis and Cinema.

Keynote Speakers:

Prof. Tadeusz Sławek (University of Silesia in Katowice)

Prof. Elżbieta Chrzanowska-Kluczevska (Jagiellonian University, Kraków)

Prof. Jacek Fabiszak (Adam Mickiewicz University in Poznań)

The conference is hosted by the Department of Anglophone Cultures, University of Opole

Venue: Collegium Maius, Plac Kopernika 11. The conference starts on 26 September 2016, at 12:00 in the Blue Lecture Theatre / Aula Błękitna

Organising Committee: Prof. Ryszard Wolny (Head), dr Katarzyna Buczek, mgr Aleksandra Krajewska, dr Tadeusz Lewandowski, dr Katarzyna Molek-Kozakowska, dr Stankomir Nicieja
